MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL OVER- RULED.

Mr. L. H. Machen, counsel for Calvin Johnson, colored, sentenced to death for being a party to the murder of Walter F. Schultz on the night of March 6, this morning presented to the Corporation Court affidavits of Miss Mary Lee Rose and W. H. Willis and Elizabeth Brown, the last two colored, and asked that they be filed in order that a motion for a new trial could be made on the ground of the discovery of additional evidence in the case.

Mr. S. G. Brant, commonwealth's attorney, argued against the filing of the affidavits, and read decisions in similar cases adverse thereto. He also said that there was nothing in the affidavits that warranted a reopening of the case and that they were contradictory. Miss Rose, who set forth in her affidavit that on the evening of March 6 she saw the body of a man near the electric railway track, was placed on the stand. She said the body was near the bill board, between Hooft's run and the electric railway tracks, contiguous to Rosemont station; that the weather was bright and pleasant, and that she had raised the window at her seat in the electric railway car. Upon being cross-examined, Miss Rose said she was not sure she saw the body of a man; she saw something resembling a human body and it was lying on the west side of the run.

Chief Goods and Officer Ferguson followed and testified that Schultz's body was found on the east side of the run about 150 yards north of the spot where Miss Rose supposed she saw the body. Miss Rose upon being further questioned said she was not positive she saw the body on the evening of March 6; also that when she signed the affidavit she was told she would not be compelled to appear in court.

The affidavit of Elizabeth Brown set forth that Henry Smith, colored, the witness for the prosecution, gave her five cents on the night of March 6. Mr. J. Randall Cato was placed upon the stand, and he testified that he called on the woman and questioned her as to her knowledge of Smith's movements on the night in question, and she told him she knew nothing concerning Smith's whereabouts on the night of March 6.

Chief Goods and Officer Ferguson testified that the Brown woman told them that Smith gave her five cents on the night of Friday, March 6. No other witnesses were called and Judge Bailey overruled the motion for a new trial. Mr. Machen will apply tomorrow for the record of the case preliminary to taking it to the Court of Appeals.

DEATH OF CAPT. LYNCH.

Capt. William B. Lynch died at his home in Leesburg Monday night, in the eighty-second year of his age. He had been ill about a week, and death was due to complications arising from age and heat prostration.

Capt. Lynch was a native of Frederick City, Md., but went to Leesburg several years before the civil war and purchased the Washingtonian, then owned and edited by a Mr. McIntire. At the beginning of the war he enlisted with the Loudoun guards, later Company C Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, with which he served as captain during the entire war.

During the winter months of the war he represented Loudoun in the Virginia house of delegates. After the war he resumed his newspaper work. In 1903 his paper was consolidated with the Mirror, which had been purchased from the Sheetz estate by Robert N. Harper, of Washington, and the combined papers were issued as the Washingtonian-Mirror with Capt. Lynch as editor, until January 1, 1906, when he retired from active work, after having served fifty-five years in the editorial chair. He had been president of the Loudoun National Bank for a number of years. Capt. Lynch was twice married, his first wife being a Miss James, of Round Hill, and his last wife who survives him Miss Wildman, of Leesburg. Two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Chamblin and Mrs. E. H. Tebb, of Leesburg and one son, John A. Lynch, of Round Hill also survive him. Capt. Lynch leaves an estate of considerable value. He was well known here by all the survivors of the Seventeenth Regiment who honored and esteemed him as a gallant soldier and a true friend. He was commander of Clinton Hatcher Camp, Confederate Veterans.

FUNERALS.

AN EVENING IN KOREA.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the public is cordially invited to the Presbyterian Church to spend an evening with the Koreans. About fifty slides will be projected upon the screen, showing interesting views of the people and customs of the hermit nation. Mr. Severe will tell of the progress of the gospel in that land. No admission charged. A silver offering will be taken for foreign missions.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION. Mr. N. L. Williamson, secretary, is today at the customs house building holding a civil service examination for copyists and typographic draftsmen. The examination will continue tomorrow. But two applicants appeared.

OPERA HOUSE.

Tonight is the last opportunity this theatrical season of witnessing the thrilling drama "Ten Nights in a Barroom." It is being presented by people who know the play and who can act well their parts. The price of admission has been placed in the reach of all and no one could spend two hours to better advantage. It is true the weather is uncomfortably warm and it requires an effort to come out, but the entertainment will fully repay you for the trouble entailed incident to a warm night. Those composing the cast have taken the different characters so often that it is as easy to act the parts as it is for a schoolboy to recite. A perusal of the cast is all that is necessary to convince one that the drama is in the hands of competent people. As this is the last night, and perhaps the last time the old drama will be produced for many years the management has decided that any seat on the lower floor can be secured tonight for ten cents. Come early and secure a good seat.

All the denizens in and around the "submerged Tenth" knew him only as "Kangaroo Kelly," as rollicksome and frolicsome young Irish lad as ever blew the pipes for "Old Tipperary" with a hop, skip and jump he blew into the life of the lower Bowery, and from that day to this has been a winner with all the belles along Avenue A. He stood apex high in the estimation of "Chuck" Connors, the noted Tenderloin character, who, whenever he comes to the Auth Stand for those irresistibly delicious Auth Products, remarks: "Say, cull, how's me Heebew from 'Eustace'?" ## DRYS WILL CONTEST.

The temperance people of Bristol met late yesterday afternoon and decided to contest the local option election of last Thursday, which resulted in a victory for the "wets" by a majority of 32.

The meeting passed a resolution instructing the chairman to appoint a special committee to at once employ counsel and institute a suit to have the election set aside, obtaining, if possible, a temporary injunction.

In going over the registration list, the committee found that 126 persons, living either in the Tennessee half of the city or outside the corporate limits, were allowed to vote in the election. This included those who voted either wet or dry.

The majority of the 126 are persons living in Tennessee and owning property in that state, but who have "claimed" their citizenship in Virginia-Bristol, and were allowed to vote. Some of them have been living in Tennessee and voting in Virginia for twenty years, and the legality of this will be assailed in an effort to have the election set aside, in which event Bristol will probably be "dry."

NO FLIGHT.

Orville Wright late yesterday made two unsuccessful attempts to maneuver his aeroplane in the air at Fort Myer. The small area of the field and the unfavorable direction of the light wind blowing at the time were largely responsible for the failure of both flights attempted.

The machine arose from the ground on both occasions, but the aviator was obliged to make the turn at the end of the drill field before the "flying speed" had been attained. Greater speed is required for making turns for straightaway flights, and Mr. Wright was compelled to come to earth because of lack of speed when he attempted to make the turn. On the last attempt a cross piece connecting the two skids was broken, and there probably will be no flight today.
